Summary of policy

The Redundancy Policy is an Appendix to the Conditions of Registration 2023/24 \(Apprentices\), and should be read in conjunction with the current version of this document. This policy outlines the support that The Open University will provide to you when studying an Open University qualification as part of an Apprenticeship Programme, in the event that you are made redundant by your Employer, prior to the end of your Open University Apprenticeship Programme.

In such an event, The Open University will support you to complete any individual academic module(s) which have already been started at the point that your employment is terminated. The Open University may also support you to complete any work-based module(s) being studied if it is feasible to do so. The Open University will undertake an assessment on a case-by-case basis to determine whether your specific work-based module can be completed after you are no longer in your current employment. This will be dependent on how much of the module has been completed, whether a regulator is involved and/or whether the work-based learning required can be adequately replicated without the need for a workplace environment.

Introduction

This policy is an Appendix to the current version of the Conditions of Registration 2023/24 \(Apprentices\) and outlines the support that The Open University will provide to undergraduate and postgraduate Learners studying an Open University qualification as part of an Apprenticeship Programme in the event that you are made redundant by your Apprenticeship Employer.

This policy only applies when your contract with your Apprenticeship Employer has been terminated prior to the end of your Apprenticeship Programme.

Policy

1. Purpose

- 1.1 The purpose of this policy is to outline your position if you are currently studying an Apprenticeship Programme and you are made redundant by your Apprenticeship Employer.
- 1.2 This Policy will apply to any module(s) that you are studying if you are made redundant for any of the reasons stated in the Redundancy definition in the Glossary after the module start date.
- 1.3 The objectives of this policy are:
 - 1.3.1 To enable you to complete the study and assessment of the academic module(s) you are currently studying if you are made redundant by your Apprenticeship Employer. If you fail the module, you may be eligible to resit/resubmit as stated in the current version of the Academic Regulations 2023/24 \(Apprentices\) and if agreed by The Open University.
 - 1.3.2 To enable you to continue to the end of the work-based learning module(s) you are currently studying if you are made redundant by your Apprenticeship Employer, if possible and agreed on an individual basis. If you fail the module, you may be eligible to resit/resubmit as stated in the current version of the Academic Regulations 2023/24 \(Apprentices\) and if agreed by The Open University.

- 1.3.3 To enable you to complete your End-Point Assessment where you have completed all the required Apprenticeship Programme components and/or qualifications in your Individual Learning Plan when you are made redundant.
- 1.3.4. To enable you to complete your Functional Skills Qualification if you are currently studying this, when made redundant.

2. Policy principles

- 2.1 The aim of the policy is to give you the best outcome to complete your current module(s) if you are made redundant by your Apprenticeship Employer, and to provide you with support when you are first made aware that you might be at risk of redundancy. Please speak to your Practice Tutor or the Apprenticeship Enrolment and Support Team (AEST).
- 2.2 You will not be able to start any new module(s) that are linked to your Apprenticeship Programme after The Open University has been notified of your redundancy.
- 2.3 If you become eligible to do so, you may subsequently register on a non-apprenticeship module or qualification by following the regulations and procedures in place at the time. We will maintain your record of study and if you are eligible to do so under the regulations and time limits that are in place, you may be able to count any credit you have been awarded in an earlier period of study to an Open University qualification. Registration onto modules that are studied towards a non-apprenticeship qualification will be subject to the standard regulations and Fee Rules, and you will be liable to pay fees. For further information, please refer to Section J Ending Your Registration of the current version of the Academic Regulations 2023/24 \(Apprentices\), and contact the AEST for advice.
- 2.4 If you decide to withdraw from the module you are studying having been made redundant by your Employer, you must follow the guidance for ending your current registration in Section E Ending Your Registration of the current version of the Conditions of Registration 2023/24 \(Apprentices\) and Section J Ending Your Registration of the current version of the Academic Regulations 2023/24 \(Apprentices\).

You will be subject to the current version of the Conditions of Registration 2023/24 and Fee Rules, and you will be liable to pay fees.

Apprenticeship Employer

This means the company or organisation that employs you and participates in your Apprenticeship Programme according to the Funding Rules for the Nation in which you are studying.

Redundancy

The statutory definition of redundancy (Employment Rights Act 1996) identifies three sets of circumstances (business closure, workplace closure, diminished requirements of the business for employees to do work of a particular kind) and an employee's dismissal can be considered to be by reason of redundancy if one of these circumstances is the reason for the dismissal.

Redundancy includes voluntary redundancy.
