Section A: Your agreement to register as a Student

A1. The terms of the agreement

- A1.1 When The Open University formally accepts in writing, by letter or email, your application to register to study with The Open University, you as the Student and The Open University are entering into a legal agreement with each other.
- a) These Conditions of Registration and the registration agreement set out the terms of the agreement between you and The Open University. They incorporate and are subject to the rules, regulations, policies and procedures which are made under the Charter and Statutes of The Open University and which are referred to in this document. Together, they set out the rights and responsibilities of both parties which will apply while you are a registered Student.
- A1.2 Subject to Section A2 “Additional conditions” below, your registration agreement together with these Conditions and any policies and regulations which are referred to in them contain the entire agreement between us. If, at any time, any Open University employees or agents have said anything inconsistent with these Conditions, the Conditions of Registration (Short Courses) will always take priority unless formally agreed in writing by The Open University.
- A1.3 These Conditions, the registration agreement, and The Open University rules, regulations, policies and procedures referred to herein shall be governed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of England and Wales and all disputes arising from these documents or in relation to them shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.

Version number: 1.0	Approved by: Delegate of Director, Academic Services
Effective from: 1 August 2022	Date for review: March 2023

A2. Additional conditions for disclosure of legal restrictions and conditions

- A2.1 Students who have an unspent criminal conviction (as listed within Appendix Ap1.1), are required to disclose this unspent conviction at the point of registering to study at The Open University. Disclosure of an unspent conviction will not result in an automatic cancellation of registration or exclusion from the University; however this may mean that The Open University is unable to accommodate your study, or that we need to place specific conditions or restrictions on study, for example exclusion from University face-to-face events and/or online activity. If you are unsure of whether your criminal conviction is spent, please contact the Community Support Team, Students in Secure Environments. The nature of the offence and all relevant information pertaining to the conviction will be considered in order to determine whether The Open University considers there to be any risk of harm to the wider University community and/or make adjustments to the course of study that mitigate risks for both the Student and The Open University community. This assessment will be undertaken in accordance with The Open University's Community Support Framework which considers our responsibilities to the University community of staff and students and to events where we engage with the wider general public. Further information on criminal convictions is available from the Community Support Team, Students in Secure Environments.
- A2.2 Students who are currently, or become subject to a Her Majesty's Prison and Probation Service (HMPPS, or other criminal justice agency) licence, Court Imposed Order or similar relevant condition/restriction imposed by a court or Criminal Justice Agency must also make The Open University aware immediately of any conditions which may prevent them from fully engaging with their course and the wider University community. Any disclosure will be managed by The Open University Students in Secure Environments Team (SiSE). This disclosure helps the SiSE Team support Students in complying with any conditions while studying with The Open University and fulfils our safeguarding obligations. This includes those subject to Sex Offender Registration and Sexual Harm Prevention Orders (in the United Kingdom; or equivalent Orders for outside of the United Kingdom).

Version number: 1.0	Approved by: Delegate of Director, Academic Services
Effective from: 1 August 2022	Date for review: March 2023

- A2.3 Failure to disclose information regarding relevant unspent criminal convictions that you are currently subject to or become subject to during your studies may involve an investigation which will consider disciplinary procedures and may be deemed a disciplinary offence in line with these Conditions of Registration (see Section G: Student Discipline and Academic Misconduct; and Appendix AP2: Failure to disclose legal restrictions and conditions), and the Code of Practice for Student Discipline (see Sections SD1.4c and SD1.3b). Any failure to disclose may therefore have an impact on your continued study with The Open University (see Section C3: The Open University's right to cancel your registration or enrolment).
- A2.4 The Open University provides services to give specialist advice and support to Students entering our student community from many different walks of life. Students coming to The Open University with a spent or unspent conviction may find it useful to connect with these services and gain additional support as part of their study with us. Any disclosure to use a service (e.g. careers advice) is dealt with confidentially, and you will only be asked for the information relevant to the service you require. If appropriate, a referral will be made to our Community Support Team who will be able to provide further guidance and support if your disclosure impacts on your study.

For further guidance on disclosure please refer to the Appendix, our Supporting Students in Secure Environments web pages or contact Community Support, Students in Secure Environments.

A3. Additional conditions to comply with statutory responsibilities

- A3.1 The Open University may impose conditions or vary the terms on which you study and/or access services and facilities. Action may be taken if, in the opinion of The Open University, it is reasonably necessary to do so in order to comply with its duties to protect the health and safety of Students, staff, contractors and members of the public.
- A3.2 Conditions may be imposed or terms may be varied by The Open University in order to meet its duties with respect to the safeguarding of young persons or vulnerable and protected adults, or in order to comply with its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 in England, Scotland and Wales; the Disability Discrimination Act 1995 for Northern Ireland; or any other statutory duty or obligation.

Version number: 1.0	Approved by: Delegate of Director, Academic Services
Effective from: 1 August 2022	Date for review: March 2023

A3.3 In order to fulfil The Open University’s Safeguarding duty (in line with the Safeguarding Policy and Clause 16 below), Open University employees or agents have a statutory obligation to disclose relevant information to the internal Safeguarding team or external parties (for example, Child and Adult Protection Services, or the emergency services).

A3.4 In order to fulfil The Open University’s Prevent duty (in line with The Open University Prevent Principles and Clause 17 below), Open University employees, Students or agents have a statutory obligation to report concerns that an Open University staff member or Student is at risk of being drawn into terrorism to The Open University Prevent team for investigation.

However, in a small number of geographical locations (please see The Open University guidance “Help with signing in to OU systems”), access may be restricted or not be permissible without use of a VPN (Virtual Private Network). If you are planning on studying with The Open University from outside the UK and Ireland, please see The Open University guidance “Help with signing in to OU systems” for information on current restrictions. If you are unsure how this will affect you or you would like to seek advice, please contact your Student Support Team.
- B1.5 The Open University is not responsible for which VPN provider you opt to use to sign in to your student account. It is your responsibility to ensure the VPN provider you use is compatible with the location you are in or intend to travel to. It is also your responsibility to ensure you are aware of any legal requirements or restrictions in the location you choose to study in when using VPN to access your studies.
- B1.6 If you are unable to access your course via a VPN because of restrictions in your place of residency, then you will be offered a full or partial refund. - B1.8 A refund will not be provided in the event of any technical issues that may arise with your VPN.
- B1.9 If you are travelling and choose to study in another location, it is your responsibility to ensure you can access your study materials online by arranging to have access via a suitable VPN provider, or you download materials prior to travelling. If you are unsure how this will affect your studies, please contact your Student Support Team.

- B3.2
- a) If your course has flexible start dates and it contains a formal assessment (for example a Work Based Activity), you will be notified of the final submission date for any assessments for your course. C2. Procedure for cancelling your registration

Cancellation procedures for your short course will vary depending on whether you are studying a short course with a fixed start date, or flexible start date. For further details, see the Glossary. If you are unsure which type of short course you are registered for, please contact Student Recruitment.

You must follow agreed procedures in order to cancel your registration, as follows:

C2.1 Cancelling your application before you are registered

- a) If you want to cancel your application before you are registered, you should not proceed with your registration. If The Open University has sent you a printed registration agreement and you have not signed and returned this agreement, do not alter or sign this agreement. Please contact us to tell us and we will cancel your application.

C2.2 Cancelling your course within 14 calendar days of registration

- a) Under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013, you have a right to cancel your registration to study a short course, without giving any reason, within 14 calendar days of the date of the email or letter confirming The Open University's acceptance of your application to register ("the Cancellation Period"). If you do so, you will receive a full refund of any fees you have paid or a waiver of any fees you are liable to pay for that course.
- b) Where your short course has a flexible start date (i.e. you are able to register and start at any time within the first 12 months of the course presentation), your right to cancel your registration will come to an end as soon as you have accessed the online teaching or assessment materials or other course resources. By accessing those materials and resources, you are explicitly agreeing that they have been provided to you. You acknowledge your right to cancel will be lost and you accept that you will not receive a refund or a waiver of any fees you are liable to pay.

Version number: 1.0	Approved by: Delegate of Director, Academic Services
Effective from: 1 August 2022	Date for review: March 2023

- c) Where your course has a fixed start date, cancellation of your course can only happen within your statutory 14-day right to cancel period.
- d) To cancel your registration, you must inform The Open University of your decision by letter, email or telephone before the 14-day statutory cancellation period has expired. The statement must include your name, your Open University Personal Identifier (PI) Number, and the course name and codes, for the course(s) you wish to cancel. If you send a letter, make sure you obtain proof of postage to confirm the date that you sent it to The Open University.
- e) The Open University will acknowledge receipt of your cancellation request by e-mail or letter within 10 working days. If you have not heard from us by then, you should contact your Student Support Team. This information is also highlighted in the confirmation of your registration or enrolment for study at The Open University.

C2.3 Withdrawing from your course more than 14 calendar days after registration

- a) If you withdraw from your course after your right to cancel has come to an end (Section C2.2), you will not receive a refund or a waiver of any fees you are liable to pay unless your course has a fixed start date and Clauses C2.3b-e apply.
- b) If your course has a fixed start date and you cancel your course either during the period outlined in Clause C2.2a above, or withdraw from your course more than 14 days after the date of confirmation of your registration but before the Course Start Date, you will receive a full refund of any fees you have paid or a waiver of any fees you are liable to pay for the course(s) you have cancelled.
- c) Refunds on a third-party payment result in a refund to the third-party.
- d) To withdraw from a course as per Clause C2.3b, you must inform your Student Support Team by telephone, letter or email, stating that you would like to withdraw. Withdrawal can only take place after the end of the cancellation period, and before the Course Start Date.
- e) If your withdrawal request was sent by post, please obtain and retain your proof of postage. C4. Our right to make changes

C4.1 Circumstances outside our control

The Open University will take all reasonable steps to provide the educational services that you have registered to receive. There may be circumstances outside our control where we are unable to provide those services in full or in part for reasons such as fire, flood, pandemic, terrorist acts or industrial disputes. Where those, or similar circumstances arise, we will minimise disruption so far as we are reasonably able and, wherever practicable, will provide you with reasonable alternative arrangements to continue with your studies.

C4.2 Maintenance of academic standards

- a) The Open University may suspend or cancel registrations and enrolments for a short course where it is unable to guarantee academic standards at the start date of the course. For example, this could be where there has been an unforeseen withdrawal of accreditation or validation for a short course since registration opened for that academic year, which The Open University is unable to resolve before the course start date.
- b) The Open University will make all reasonable efforts to inform you of any such changes as early as possible and to provide reasonable alternative arrangements wherever practicable to do so.

C4.3 Short-term changes to learning, teaching and assessment arrangements

The Open University may have to postpone, re-locate, re-structure or cancel tutorials, forums, and other teaching sessions, assessments or examinations due to the occurrence of an event or circumstance beyond its reasonable control including, but not limited to, industrial action, whether on the part of the University's staff or otherwise, short notice absence of teaching or other staff, or short notice unavailability of premises, facilities or materials. The Open University will make all reasonable efforts to inform you of any such changes as early as possible and to provide reasonable alternative arrangements wherever practicable to do so.

- C4.4.3 Where a change is made to a course on which you are enrolled or registered you will be given as much notice as possible of the change and, if there is any detriment to you as a result of the change, you will be given the opportunity to withdraw from that module without penalty.

The tuition fee you agree to pay is shown in the Registration Agreement or registration confirmation. Contact your Student Support Team for more information about any additional charges.
- D1.2 If you are not paying your fees at the time of registration, The Open University may accept payment by an approved payment method such as payment by a sponsor. You are normally required to have secured the agreement to pay the fees by that method before we will accept your registration.

If you have requested your study materials to be delivered to an address in the Republic of Ireland or Continental Europe, you may be required to cover additional postal costs (such as VAT and customs charges) in order to receive your physical study materials. If you are on a low income, you might be eligible for help with some of these costs after you start studying. Please contact your Student Support Team for further information.

D2. Refund of fees

Except where you have a right to cancel your course registration as referred to in Section C1 “Cancelling your registration” and Section C2 “Procedure for cancelling your registration”, there will be no refund of fees if you wish to end your studies once you have accessed the online learning materials and/or course resources.

D3. Failure to pay fees and charges

- D3.1 If you do not pay your fees or provide an approved payment method at the time of registration, The Open University will not accept your registration.
- D3.2 If The Open University has accepted your registration and, for any reason, the payment method we have accepted is cancelled or withdrawn (for example a credit or debit card payment is not honoured by your bank or sponsorship is withdrawn), we will cancel your registration even if you have started studying. You will be given notice of cancellation of your registration and an opportunity to be reinstated if you contact The Open University within 7 calendar days of the date of cancellation having secured an agreed payment method or if you provide payment by a different method.
- D3.3 If you cancel your registration or your registration is cancelled, you will remain personally liable to The Open University for all of the fees which are due up to the date of the cancellation. If you do not pay those fees you will be in debt to The Open University and The Open University will take action to recover the debt in line with our Student Debt Policy.

- D4.2 If you are in debt to The Open University for your fees or other charges (all manner of debt), we will:
- a) Notify you that you are in debt, the amount of the debt and how you may pay that debt and give you a reasonable opportunity to pay any outstanding fees or other charges before taking any further action against you in line with our Student Debt Policy.
 - b) Notify you of what action you may take, if appropriate, to limit any liability for further fees and other charges that may become due and give you a reasonable opportunity to take that action before any further liability will be incurred.
- D4.3 If you are in debt to The Open University for your tuition fees or other academic charges (academic debt) we may, in addition to Section D4.2 above:
- a) Cancel your registration or enrolment at any time as detailed in Section C3: The Open University's right to cancel your registration.
